DEVELOPERS

Today, construction is one of the industries, engines of economic growth in the region, which offers employment opportunities for tens of thousands of people, both in its extension and related sectors of activity.

The fundamental point of reference for the development of the construction in the Volgograd region is the realization of comfortable accommodation at affordable prices and the creation of a stimulating, comfortable and safe urban environment.

Of course, this is impossible without maintaining an active dialogue between the executive authorities of the region and the main actors of housing projects - the developers, who require us to create favorable conditions for the latter's activities.
